

Fort Bloant, TN

G

Wilson's Knoxville Gazette
Mar. 16, 1812

A letter is received in town from a worthy gentleman, who states he was informed at Fort Bloant, about eight miles from there a tract of land four miles square had sunk about four feet, and in the fissures are one half of large trees were seen standing on the high and the other half on the low ground. The plantation in the low ground remained otherwise uninjured.

Nash. Clarion

Comment

-On Cumberland river approximately 60 miles NE of Nashville and 110 miles NW of Knoxville, TN.